Dear Mother & Dad:

Well, I have finally got settled down long enough to do a little writing. As I told you I have now moved to Passau. It is a large city on the Danube River. It is very old and very picturesque. There is a large castle just across the river. It was formerly the home of the Bishop of Passau. It was once the HQ of Napoleon and lately Hitler had it reserved as a summer home. We never used it though. Now we are using it as an exalted men's rest center. We have a beautiful cathedral here. I went to solemn high mass on Nov 1 at the cathedral. The bishop of Passau said the mass. The cathedral has 12 altars not including the main altar. While the solemn high mass was going on low masses were taking place on all of the other altars. They had a beautiful choir and a monstrous organ. The organ is said to be the largest in ~~the~~ the world and I can well believe it.

I have had a tremendous amount of work to do since I arrived here. I have a sports arena that will seat 15,000 people that I am in charge of. I also have two motion picture theaters and a post exchange. to keep an eye on. If you don't think that is a day's work, try it sometime. I am trying to get them to assign someone to help me. So far, no dice.

I am still disappointed about the mix-up on the Swiss call. However, I don't know what could be plainer than the two words, "Call me." It had to be said in a few words, you know. The cable I sent cost $18.

I received a letter from John Sullivan the other day. I also got one from my buddy, Benson. He is discharged now and is home in Los Angeles. In regard to my own redeployment, you know as much about it as I do, perhaps more. All that I know is what I read in the newspapers. It all sums up to sometime between Christmas and June of next year.

Well, that's all for now. The packages are coming so fast I can't count them. ~~Please send~~ However, I don't think you had better send anymore. I may not be here to receive them.

Your Loving Son
